

Dental Board of California
Initial Dental License Fee Calculation

Business & Professions Code §1715.

Your first license fee will be pro-rated. California dental licenses expire every two years on the last day of the month of your birthday.

For example, if your birthday is June 14, 1982 (an even year), your license will expire:

- June 30, 2014
- June 30, 2016, etc.

However, if your birthday is June 14, 1983 (an odd year), your license will expire:

- June 30, 2015
- June 30, 2017, etc.

To calculate the fee for your initial (pro-rated) license:

1. Count the number of months between the day you send payment until the date your license will expire. If you send payment on the 15th day of the month or later, do not count that month.
2. Find that number below to know your initial license fee.

of months	Initial license fee
1*
2
3	$65.63
4	$87.50
5	$109.38
6	$131.25
7	$153.13
8	$175.00
9	$196.88
10	$218.75
11	$240.63
12	$262.50
13	$284.38
14	$306.25
15	$328.13
16	$350.00
17	$371.88
18	$393.75
19	$415.63
20	$437.50
21	$459.38
22	$481.25
23	$503.13
24	$525.00
25*	$546.88
26	$568.75

If you need assistance calculating your initial license fee, call the Licensing Unit at 916-263-2359.

*If the number of months until your birthday is 1, use the $ amount for 25 months.

If the number of months until your birthday is 2, use the $ amount for 26 months.